

PARK POST

SANDIA SCIENCE & TECHNOLOGY PARK

SEPTEMBER 2023

40 COMPANIES AND ORGANIZATIONS • 1772 EMPLOYEES • $420.3 MILLION OF INVESTMENT

25 years goes by quickly! Today, our dream of a park focused on science and technology innovation is still only partially fulfilled. We started out with many acres of open space, and today, even with all the development, there's still some room left for growth.

Sherman McCorkle, Chairman of the Board, Sandia Science & Technology Park Development Corporation

COMPANY, ORGANIZATION & PARTNER NEWS

Park Celebrates 25 Years of Economic Growth

Please join us for the SS&TP 25th anniversary open house on September 12. It will be held at the National Museum of Nuclear Science & History from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Come see displays by Park companies and organizations, and selected Sandia organizations, such as Procurement and Supplier Diversity, and the New Mexico Small Business Assistance Program and TRGR Technology Readiness Initiative. Take a tour of the museum, a company, or organization. Food trucks will be available for lunch. For more details, visit www.sstp.org.

BioFlyte Raises $5.4M Investment

Cottonwood Technology Fund and Scout Ventures invested $5.4 million in BioFlyte to expand the reach of its biosecurity products. Those products are designed to keep different locations safe from harmful toxins, viruses, and bacteria. With this investment, BioFlyte hopes to add four to five positions by the end of the year.

SS&TP CAC Gathers at Annual Meeting

The SS&TP Community Advisory Council gathered at Cooperative Educational Services. After hearing an overview of the past year's accomplishments and events, council members heard from representatives of CES, Technology Leadership High School, Vic Myers Associates along with BlueHalo, and the City of Albuquerque's Public Art Urban Enhancement Division. The SS&TP CAC provides guidance and input on current and future activities for the Park.
