

SANDIA SCIENCE & TECHNOLOGY PARK

April 2013

The SS&TP Open House is a great opportunity to share how we benefit and support groups at Sandia, AFRL, KAFB, as well as Park companies. I look forward to seeing our continuous growth as a result of the Open House.

Recent Events

SS&TP Open House – The Sandia Science & Technology Park (SS&TP) held an Open House at the Steve Schiff Auditorium on March 21 to showcase the products and capabilities of Park companies and organizations to representatives from Sandia National Laboratories, Air Force Research Laboratory (AFRL), and Kirtland Air Force Base (KAFB). The event provided an opportunity to strengthen ongoing partnerships and initiate new ones. The Open House was hosted by the SS&TP and Sandia's Small Business Utilization Department, and sponsored by the Sandia Science & Technology Park Development Corporation.

Recognition

FLC Laboratory Director of the Year – Paul Hommert has been named 2013 Laboratory Director of the Year by the Federal Laboratory Consortium (FLC) for his support of Sandia's technology transfer activities, including the SS&TP. Being selected as a recipient is an honor that recognizes both the excellence of Paul's efforts and Sandia's entire technology transfer program. The FLC is a nationwide network of federal laboratories that provides the forum to develop strategies and opportunities for linking laboratory mission technologies and expertise with the marketplace.
