Recent Events

Sandia Hosts Congressional Fellow – Sandia National Laboratories recently hosted Brian Crone, a Congressional Fellow from U.S. Representative Ben Ray Luján's Washington, DC office. In his new role, Brian provides assistance with science and engineering issues that relate to policy and legislative matters under consideration by Congress. The purpose of the visit was for Brian to learn more about Industry Partnership and Economic Development programs at Sandia. The meeting also included tours of the Sandia Science & Technology Park, including Air Products & Chemicals Inc., as well as the University of New Mexico Advanced Materials Laboratory.
